This program is supported by grant number 90DR0046 from the US Department of Health and Human Services, Administration on Aging and granted through the North Dakota Department of Human Services, Aging Services Division.

Welcome to a resource that unlocks options, services and supports for older adults and adults with disabilities.

It's not an agency, it's a connection... the Aging and Disability Resource LINK

- Makes it easier for older adults, adults with physical disabilities and their families to learn about choices if they need long-term support and services.
- Assures existing staff and partners more effectively link people with services.
- Realigns infrastructure to fill gaps, avoid duplication and strengthen collaboration.
- Connects to a network of partner agencies and other entities that provide services.
- Offers active options counseling—not just referrals and contacts.
- Can also help people who do not qualify for publicly funded services.
- Creates uniform guidelines for intake, information and options counseling.

Help people live independently longer by simplifying their access to services.

ADRL is the key to being able to serve North Dakota's increasing elderly population with existing resources and staff. Increased public awareness is key to the success of this new approach to connecting people with services.
